Experience & Quality

With 35 years in the sensor industry, we know the temperature business. We also know that providing a quality product is the only way to stay in business for 3 generations. Whether you are deciphering a part number or in need of a new installation, we have the expertise to help.

Delivery

At Thermowell Manufacturing Co. we strive to build our customers a quality product with quick delivery. We will assist you with your temperature sensor needs 24/7 and understand that downtime is unacceptable. Though our standard delivery is 1 week, when requested our competitive advantage is providing fast service that cannot be found anywhere else in the industry.
